

About Rannel

Rannel Theatre Company was founded by JoeyD and Matt Bailey.

Matt Bailey has performed in plays off-Broadway and has had a professional career in dance and performance. He is also a DJ and has performed across the UK, Europe and America, releasing CDs to critical acclaim with DJ Para

Joey D is a true hip hop artist who has been representing the b-boy culture for almost a decade. At the age of 24 Joey D has already made a name for himself in the UK due to the originality of his dancing and his aggressiveness in battles, which represent the real rawness of the culture. Besides constant teaching and workshops Joey D tours theatres and schools and competes in competitions across the UK, Europe and America.

About the show

Curiosity meets one-upmanship in Filhip Filhop "Everything happens on the break", as two friends investigate their surroundings, competing to entertain each other in an attempt to forget about the monotony of everyday life.

The elements of Hip Hop are hidden and twisted into a dynamic physical performance using found objects and intricate choreography to create an energetic and spontaneous comedy. Information on the touring we're doing, education & workshops possibilities, products and other Rannel related fun can be found by clicking on the relevant boxes above